Seven Grand Prizes to be Given Absolutely Free to Our Customers as Christmas Presents on Xmas Day.

We have placed in our show window a huge pumpkin weighing 71 pounds, the largest vegetable of the kind ever grown in Boyle county, and to the person guessing nearest the exact number of seeds in this pumpkin will be given a Ladies or Gentleman's solid 14 carat gold watch fitted with a high-grade Elgin or Waltham movement, valued at $50; and to the next six nearest guesses, the following valuable presents will be given:

Second Prize—Gent's or Lady's 20-year gold filled Watch, value $20.

Third Prize—Handsome parlor clock, value $8.

Fourth Prize—Lady's Set Ring, value $10.

Fifth Prize—Silver Comb, Brush and Mirror set, value $10.

Sixth Prize—Pair Solid Gold Cuff Buttons, value $10.

Seventh Prize—Eight-inch Cut-Glass Salad Bowl, value $5.

CONDITIONS OF CONTEST.—Each customer will be given one guess for each dollar's worth of goods bought for cash; take as many guesses as you like if you buy $1 worth of goods for each guess at the number of seeds. The guessing begun Saturday morning, Nov. 25, 1905, and continue until Dec. 25, when the pumpkin will be cut open and the seeds counted by a committee of five leading business and professional men of Danville. Bear in mind that the contest lasts one month and that every cash purchase carries with it a guess for each dollar. Every person holding a guess will have the privilege of seeing the seeds counted if they so desire. Prizes are now on display in our show windows.

The largest and best selection of Diamonds, Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Hand-painted China, Cut-Glass, &c., and for less money for same quality in Central Kentucky.

HUGH MURRAY, Danville, Kentucky,

Leading Jeweler.

Successor to Murray & McAdams.

Caleb Powers, the thrice convicted conspirator in the murder of Gov. Goebel, spent his fifth Thanksgiving in jail and remarked as follows: "This is good Thanksgiving weather," he said as he lay on his cot, looking out of a window wistfully. "I am grateful for many things, especially for the number and loyalty of my friends. If I get a trial in the Federal court I am sure I will be acquitted, but if I have to stay in the State courts I will undoubtedly be convicted."

a Grippe and Pneumonia.

Pneumonia often follows a grippe but never follows the use of Foley's Honey and Tar. It cures the grippe coughs and prevents pneumonia and consumption. As for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Mr. G. Vacher, of 157 Osgood St., Chicago writes: My wife had a severe case of la grippe three years ago, and it left her with a terrible cough. She tried a bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar and it gave immediate relief. A 50 cent bottle cured her cough entirely. Refuse substitutes. Penny's Drug Store.

KINGSVILLE.

Hon. J. M. Alverson was here between trains a few days since.

An infant of Dick Hatter died a few days since and the remains were taken to Casey county.

Little Earl Mudman died and was buried at Pleasant Point. The fatal disease is said to have been diphtheria. Mrs. Fount Dishon asks us to express her thanks to the people who have been so kind to her since the loss by fire of her home. She appreciates their kindness and generosity.

Rev. Green and family have moved into the house just vacated by Robert Curd's family, who have moved to the house lately occupied by Robert Smith, who has moved into his new home on Mrs. M. H. Creighton's farm.

Walter Milburn, of Stanford, is with his uncle here. Miss Isaacs, of Woodstock, was the guest of Mrs. Dr. Warren. Mrs. Clarence Dunn, of Ludlow, is with her parents here. Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Walter are keeping house in the rooms over their store. Dan Hester is spending a few days on his farm in the blue grass. Frank Kenoy and little niece, Marion Evans, went to Nicholasville Friday. Mrs. Pye, who has been with Wm. Lane, returned to Lexington Friday. Mrs. M. K. Lane returned to Danville last week, after a visit to her brother-in-law, Wm. Lane. The latter's mother, of Garrard county, is the guest of Mr. Lane and wife. Trainmaster Wm. Tumey, of Lexington, was here a few days since.

The annual report of Commissioner John W. Yerkeys, of the Internal Revenue Bureau, Treasury Department, shows the receipts of the bureau for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1905, to be $234,178,976, an increase of $1,284,195 over last year. In payment of internal revenue taxes Kentucky stands fourth among all the States.

A train of coal cars running down the mountain from Sagamore mines, near Middlesboro, jumped the track, ditching seven cars of coal. Green Barksdale, a colored brakeman, jumped from the train and sustained a dislocated hip and internal injuries.

Secretary of State McChesney issued 750 commissions to Justices of the Peace. Twenty-five county election commissions have not reported, as required by law, and have been notified.

When you want a pleasant laxative take Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. For sale by all druggists.

John Gass, one of the best-known and oldest merchants of Paris, is dead.

Senator McCreary, who is in Washington for the session, says he is not bothering in the least over the report that the State machine, if it gets Blackburn's scalp, will next go after him. Said he: "It has been the rule of Kentucky democrats to give a United States Senator two terms, and I do not expect to be made an exception to the rule. It looks now as if I would have an easy time in my campaign in 1907. More than two-thirds of the State Senators who were elected this fall, and who will hold over until then, are already for me. I have always responded to the will of the democratic party and helped to fight its battles. In 1900, when the State had been going republican for six years, I was requested to take charge of the democratic campaign and did so. Mr. Beckham, who was our candidate for governor, was elected by a big majority, and the largest vote ever cast in Kentucky was polled that year. I redeemed the State and it has been going democratic ever since."

A Certain Cure for Croup.
When a child shows symptoms of croup there is no time to experiment with new remedies, no matter how highly they may be recommended. There is one preparation that can always be depended upon. It has been in use for many years and has never been known to fail, viz: Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. Give it and a quick cure is sure to follow. Mr. M. F. Compton of Market, Texas, says of it, "I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in severe cases of croup with my children, and can truthfully say it always gives prompt relief." For sale by all druggists.

Magistrate (to prisoner)—You say that you took the ham because you are out of work and your family are starving. And yet I understand that you have four dogs about the house.
Prisoner—Yes; but I wouldn't ask my family to eat dogs, yer wusship.

The Heiress—"But how can you love me when I'm so cross-eyed?"
The Suitor—"You are not cross-eyed, dear. Your eyes are so pretty that they couldn't help trying to look into each other—that's all."

In Mad Chase.

Millions rush in mad chase after health, from one extreme of faddism to another, when, if they would only eat good food, and keep their bowels regular with Dr. King's New Life Pills, their troubles would all pass away. Prompt relief and quick cure for liver and stomach trouble 2c, guaranteed at G. L. Penny, Stanford, Lyne Bros., of Crab Orchard.

PLEASANT POINT.

Hog killing is the order of the day in this community.

Our school is quite a success with Elmer Gilliland as teacher.

Rev. R. R. Noel, pastor of our church, has been called for another year.

Tobe Jeffrey's house burned last week. Elmer Gilliland was living in it and lost all of its contents.

It is encouraging to know that we are to have a new schoolhouse. Our superintendent tells us we will have one soon.

The spelling matches between our school and Kingsville proved very interesting. Pleasant Point won two out of three contests.

The most brilliant and largest banquet in the history of masonry in Kentucky was that given Friday night at the Galt House under the auspices of the Ancient Arabic Order of Noble Mystic Shriners. Nearly 700 nobles of the order, including nearly 150 novices, who had just completed a weary and toilsome march over the "burning sands" to kneel at the mystic shrine, sat down to the banquet board for an evening's rest and entertainment.

No inspection of the female ward of the Central Kentucky Asylum for the Insane, at Lakeland, was made by the November grand jury on account of alleged discourteous treatment of the jurors by the officials. Jurors say they were given no opportunity to inspect any department except the male ward, and were told that their car was "about due." Dr. M. H. Yeaman, superintendent of the asylum, denies the charge of discourtesy.

Doctors Could not Help Her.

"I had kidney trouble for years," writes Mrs. Raymond Conner of Shelton, Wash., "and the doctors could not help me. I tried Foley's Kidney Cure, and the very first dose gave me relief and I am now cured. I cannot say too much for Foley's Kidney Cure." It makes the diseased kidneys sound so they will eliminate the poisons from the blood. Unless they do this good health is impossible. Penny's Drug Store.

A stout man who lived in Savannah, Was using a blood-red bandana.

In the field where he stood Was a bull of bad mood— And the blow was felt clear to Havana.

The clothing factory of Stahl, Urban & Co., at Terre Haute, Ind., was destroyed by fire. The loss on building and stock is $200,000.

IN NEIGHBORING COUNTIES.

Eugene Slaughter was run over by a freight and killed near Williamsburg.

Sheriff McInerney, of Kenton county, says no pool rooms shall be operated there while he is in office.

At Nicholasville, Mrs. Mollie Mattingly, a wealthy widow of four times, died after several months' illness.

Col. William P. Curtis, a wealthy and prominent business man of New Orleans, La., died at Richmond, Ky., of heart failure.

Nick Garrison, a wealthy land owner of Leslie county, was convicted of the murder of Felix Hoskins, his cousin, and given a life sentence. After the killing Garrison escaped from Kentucky in female attire.

That Boyle county farmer who managed to get eight pounds of gravel into the craw of a turkey that weighed 11 pounds on foot, would not do for president of a life insurance company, but he is onto the methods in a rather crude way, all right enough.—Glasgow Times.

There are 573 pupils in the High School; 333 in the Sixth Ward Building, and 139 in the Fourth Ward Building, making a total of 1,045 children in Somerset's three school buildings. Now what has Brer Ed Walton got to say to that?—Somerset Journal. Brer Campbell talks as big about Somerset's school children as if he had a few.

At a mass meeting at the City Hall at Corbin the old Commercial Club was reconstructed and given the name of a Business Men's Association. F. A. Sawyer, of Louisville, addressed the gathering in an interesting way and was followed by D. M. White, City Clerk, who is still imbued with the spirit of the State Development convention; J. H. Mitchell, president of the Corbin Banking Company; Dr. J. F. Bryant and other leading citizens. The new organization starts out with something like 40 enthusiastic members. The following officers were elected: W. L. Surran, president; J. A. Steele, vice president; D. M. White, secretary and treasurer, and nine of the most prominent business men of Corbin executive committee-men.

A Fearful Fate.

It is a fearful fate to have to endure the terrible torture of Piles. "I can truthfully say," writes Harry Colson, of Masonville, Ia., "that for Blind, Bleeding, Itching and Protruding Piles, Bucklen's Arnica Salve, is the best cure made." Also best for cuts, burns and injuries. 25c at G. L. Penny, Stanford, Lyne Bros., of Crab Orchard.
